

Housiversaries are Hot

The hashtag #Housiversary has been trending on Instagram, Twitter, and Facebook, as homeowners find new ways to mark their homeownership milestones.

Check out some of the unique ways you can celebrate your “housiversary.”

Show off the keys: Snap photos holding up your house keys to signify the special day, and post to your social media using the #Housiversary hashtag.

Display before and after photos. Show off the home improvement work you've done since moving in.

Commission a house portrait. Have a professional picture sketched of your home.

Throw a party. Host a housewarming party after move-in day. You may even want to invite your new neighbors!

Plan the next project. Use the time to reflect on what you want to do next with your home.
